MY DEBT.

A wide grey sky and a wide grey sea,
And strained are the Look-out's eyes!
Then night as black as black may be
And the wind and the sleet drive bitterly,
And who knows where our foeman lies?

In heat or cold, on land or in air,
In weariness, grief or pain,
Are hearts that keep our fair land fair,
That give us our food, our burdens bear,
And that break 'neath the dreadful strain.

O men who watch over me and mine,
Each stout-hearted man and true,
How can I help both thee and thine,
What token give, what word, what sign,
On the day when my debt falls due?

To all the men who defend our shores from invasion our debt is due already, but it is due in far greater measure to those who have been incapacitated by nerve strain or whose minds are clouded by the haunting horrors of the war.

THE UNITED STATES IN "BIG WAR."

WHEN the people of the United States decided to enter the lists and fight on the side of the Allies against the peace breakers of Europe, Canada said, "We are confident that, though the United States have entered the fray at a late hour, they will prove in their aggressiveness and activity to be as formidable a foe as any which Germany has ranged against herself by premeditated design or the violation of international law." The events of the last few weeks have already given justification for our confidence, and the public statements made in this country by Admiral Sims and by General Pershing give a true indication of both naval and military feeling in the United States.

We are aware that there was a considerable body of public opinion which did not credit the American people with the intention of using their armed forces in the war they have so lately entered to any important extent or one comparable with that of the British Empire. Such people judged by the military operations of the United States in Mexico and the Philippines. The present war is in a totally different category. Since the first Belgian atrocities in August, 1914, public opinion among the hundred million people of the United States has been gradually enlightened as to the real meaning of the struggle which has deluged Europe in blood. The example of Canada, who leapt so eagerly to the call of freedom, is bearing fruit in the mind of her great southern neighbour.

Already, although there is a far greater appreciation in the United States of the sacrifices and efforts made by France than of those made by Great Britain, there are to-day most welcome and satisfactory signs of the desire to learn and to appreciate what has really been done in the last 33 months by the older English-speaking democracy. From the moment when the great bulk of the people in the United States desired to find points of agreement with us, instead of, as heretofore, points of divergence, the growth of a sincere and solid friendship became merely a matter of time and opportunity. The first great world benefit brought about by the war was the Russian revolution; the second is the better appreciation and understanding brought about between the two great English-speaking peoples of the world. These two events alone will, in the next generation, be seen to have been worth even the blood and misery of The Great War. Added to these, when the liberation of all the subjugated nationalities of Europe shall have been achieved, the triumph of democracy will be complete.

At a time when the active support in the field which the Allies anticipated from Russia appears to have failed them, or at any rate to have been seriously postponed, the vigorous preparation by the United States to put its whole strength and resources into the field against the Hun is a factor of great importance and encouragement.

THE ROUND TABLE IN CANADA.

AN important meeting was held in Toronto a few weeks ago to discuss "Canada's Relations with the Empire." Sir Edmund Walker, presiding, explained that this was the first of a series of similar meetings which it was hoped to convene in all the Provinces of Canada in order to discuss the subject before them that night. He told his large audience that the Round Table movement applied to an enquiry pursued in various parts of the Empire in order to obtain an enlightened public opinion on problems presented by the Empire, and he summed up the objects of the moment by saying, "If our foreign policy and our external affairs are to be handled democratically the people must have a knowledge of what they involve."

The leaders of the Round Table movement in Canada have made it perfectly clear that the scheme of Imperial Federation advocated by Mr. Lionel Curtis in his much discussed book, "The Problem of the Commonwealth," is not endorsed or supported by the Round Table movement. Sir Edmund Walker pointed out that Mr. Curtis' book advocates "the gospel of centralisation." It is quite clear that, as a result of full and frank discussions at the Imperial War Conference, the idea of centralisation has been found to be neither necessary nor desirable, as is plainly indicated by the statements since made by Sir Robert Borden and General Smuts.

The genesis of this new movement in Canada is notable. It is entirely divorced from party politics, as political leaders of both sides meet in friendly agreement on the same platform. Its object is to lead the people of Canada to think Imperially and to realise the grandeur of their heritage as an important part to-day of The Great Empire, and the likelihood, in a not very distant future, of becoming the predominant partner in the great commonwealth of nations. At this meeting, in addition to the instructive speech of the president, thoughtful and noteworthy speeches were made by Sir John Flavelle, Sir William Hearst, Mr. N. W. Rowell, and Dr. Colby, and a strong lead has been given to the people of Canada towards a wider national view.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

Clearing the Air.

To a certain extent the Canadian political atmosphere has been cleared since we summarised the situation last week. The Compulsory Service Bill, providing for reinforcements, on the selective system, up to 100,000 men, has been introduced, and Sir Robert Borden's persistence in his policy has had certain consequences.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier refused the Prime Minister's offer to form a Coalition Government on the basis of each party having equal representation, taking up the position that compulsory service should not be enforced until it had been approved by a referendum or a general election. The immediate result has been the disruption of the official Liberal Opposition and the probability of Sir Wilfrid's retirement from the leadership. A huge mass meeting of Liberals at Toronto endorsed the conscription policy, and leading members of the party like Mr. N. W. Rowell, the Liberal leader in the Ontario Legislature, and Mr. Michael Clark, M.P. for Red Deer, renounced their allegiance to their veteran chief. The next stage is expected to be the formation of a Liberal Unionist Cabinet without the Laurier element, especially as the Hon. E. L. Patenaude, the Secretary of State and a Quebec Conservative, has resigned his portfolio.

Mr. Rogers' Demand. Sir Robert Borden has announced that the criticism passed by a Manitoba judge on the conduct of the Hon. Robert Rogers when he was a member of the Manitoba Government, has caused Mr. Rogers to demand an independent enquiry, and to ask in the meantime to be relieved of his portfolio of Minister of Public Works.

Mr. Rogers' name has been very freely mentioned in the Canadian Press as the future High Commissioner for Canada when Sir George Perley, who does not wish to be confirmed in the office, returns to Canada. It is, therefore, only in keeping with the best British traditions of public life that a Minister whose character has been seriously attacked by a judge should promptly demand an investigation; and it is certainly most fitting that anyone appointed to the office of High Commissioner for Canada—a position which is ever growing in importance, and in future will perhaps always be held by a member of the Canadian Government—should be without reproach alike in his public and his private life.

Canadian V.C.s. In the ordinary lists of honours and decorations there are always some names which surprise by their appearance, but no such comment is ever made on the awards of the Victoria Cross. Not only do we know that every man who receives the coveted distinction "for valour" has most fully earned it, but we also well know that for each one there are ten others whose names might fittingly appear, had circumstances been more fortunate. In an Army like ours, so fruitful of gallantry, the rigid restriction in the numbers of the Victoria Cross awards is typically British, and we would not have it otherwise.

In the last list, which contains the names of 29 officers and men, Canada, in proportion to the number of bayonets she has on the Western Front, has won her share of this most honourable of all distinctions. Some of the deeds of gallantry narrated in these bald, official words, as given on another page, were mentioned in an article which we published last week. Two out of the four members of the Canadian Overseas Forces did not live to wear the Cross they had won. It is noticeable that in all the four cases the act which won the Cross was in connection with the silencing of the enemy's machine-guns, which thereby saved not only the life of the hero himself but those of many of his comrades.

We may congratulate the Australians on the honour conferred on that Dominion by the fine feat of Lieut. McNamara, of the R.F.C., and it is pleasing to see that one of their Scandinavian settlers, Pte. Jorgan Christian Jensen, worthily upheld the fighting traditions of the land of his adoption and showed in his chivalrous bravery the very wide difference between the Scandinavian and the Hun.

A Practical Acknowledgment. An order from Ottawa affecting every officer, nursing sister, warrant officer, N.C.O. and man in the Canadian Overseas Forces, has this week been received by General Headquarters in London. The order states:—

> Every person now serving or may in the future serve as an officer, nursing sister, warrant officer, non-commissioned officer or man in the Canadian Forces, and who has been or may hereafter be honourably retired or discharged from such service after six months' continuous service during the present war, will be continued on the pay and allowances of the rank held at the date of retirement or discharge, for a period of three months after the said service or any portion thereof has been performed Overseas.

This means that every man who has served six months in the Canadian Overseas Military Forces will be entitled to a lump sum, representing the pay and allowance of his rank at the date of his discharge. In the case of a private soldier, the grant will be approximately $100, plus separation and other allowances. The order is, of course, retrospective, and men who have already secured their discharge, either in this country or in Canada, will participate. The grant is a generous one, yet who is there who would desire to challenge the equity of the Government's decision? The men who donned khaki did so without hope of ulterior reward, and it is but fitting that their generous self-sacrifice should be as generously met by the country they have so gallantly served.

An Earnest of Good Intentions. We have frequently drawn attention in the editorial pages of Canada to certain unsatisfactory features in connection with military decorations. We are glad, therefore, to have this opportunity of congratulating the Canadian Government upon a decision which will apply equally to all.

We can, we feel, confidently accept this very satisfactory decision (following as it does so closely upon the Government's proposal of homestead grants) as an earnest of their future intentions with respect to treatment of returned soldiers. The work of dealing with the latter has been relegated by the Dominion Government to the various Provinces, and there may be some slight danger of this duty being neglected unless the schemes formulated by the Provincial Governments are closely co-ordinated by means of a central authority. The present is the time to make certain of such necessary co-ordination between the Dominion and Provincial Governments.

A Canadian Flying Corps. The large number of Canadians who are now known to be in the Royal Flying Corps or the Royal Naval Air Service has caused the desire to be expressed, not only in Canada but also at the Front, for the formation of a Canadian Flying Corps. The presence of so many young Canadians in these two flying services is a matter of which the Dominion can be very justly proud. In fact, it has, we believe, been officially acknowledged by Sir David Henderson that Canadians have shown a special aptitude for this most romantic but exacting branch of war service.

There would be considerable difficulty, however, to-day in forming a Canadian Flying Corps. All the Canadian officers in the two services have been trained and equipped at the expense of the Mother Country, and it would be hardly fair now to segregate them and confine their services to the Canadian Corps. Again, there is a large flying school now being established in Canada at the expense of the Mother Country, and this also is a compliment to the efficiency and initiative of young Canada; but, unless the Dominion took over this school and bore the expense, we could hardly ask that the flying men trained there should be separated on their arrival at the Front and used as a purely Canadian Flying Corps. Had the establishment of a Canadian Flying Corps been undertaken ab initio by the Canadian Government, the Canadian Army Corps would by now be watched over by its own flying men; but it seems to us that it is rather late in the day to press this suggestion, even if there are no military reasons against the segregation of Canadian flying men.

"CANADA" is now the ONLY newspaper which is giving the full and complete lists up-to-date of the casualties, appointments and other official information concerning the Canadian Overseas Forces. "CANADA" goes to press on Wednesday afternoon.

The Alberta General Election.

The Hon. Arthur L. Sifton, who is a brother of Sir Clifford Sifton, K.C.M.G., had completed seven years as Premier just before the General Election held on June 7. At the polls last week he obtained another remarkable proof of the continued confidence of the electorate. Not only himself, but all his Cabinet colleagues were re-elected, and—subject to official recounts—his supporters will number at least 35 out of the 54 members of the Provincial Legislature already elected. Elections in the new constituencies of Peace River and Athabasca, and for the two special soldier constituencies are still pending. Last week Canada alluded to certain novel features of the election, such as the fact of this being the first occasion upon which women not only exercised the vote, but were eligible for election. It is, therefore, interesting to note that in the constituency of Claresholm Mrs. Louis McKenny, president of the Women's Christian Union, defeated the ex-member, Mr. M. Moffatt, thus becoming the first elected woman legislator in the Dominion. A list of the members reported elected will be found on page 323.

Now it is the turn of the soldiers from Alberta to express their opinion, and though less importance will attach to their verdict than would have been the case had Mr. Sifton's majority been smaller, it will be interesting to know what candidates they nominate and elect for the two special seats created for their representation. On page 315 will be found the preliminary notice issued by Mr. J. A. Reid, the Agent-General for Alberta in London, as to the procedure to be adopted at these polls. A compliment was paid to Canada by the Legislature of Alberta in specifically naming only this journal and the Times as the media through which the official notices regarding this election shall appear in the United Kingdom.

The Election Platforms.

As to the respective policies before the electorate, it is noticeable that in the manifesto issued by the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Edward Michener, he endorsed the principle of prohibition legislation, and said, "The Opposition have always been in favour of submitting the prohibition question to the people, and if placed in power will administer the Liquor Act under an independent Commission absolutely free from political influence." "Votes for Women" was also supported by the Opposition, whose chief ground of complaint against the Ministry apparently relates to railway guarantees, the incidence of taxation, and the holding of an election at such a time. Mr. Michener also protested against the creation of the two special soldier constituencies.

CANADA'S COMPULSION BILL.

The Compulsory Service Bill, introduced by Sir Robert Borden in the Dominion House of Commons last Monday, provides for ten classes from which reinforcements up to 100,000 men are to be called, the age for service being 20 to 45.

The exemptions are much as in Great Britain, the clergy being exempted and also Doukhobors and Mennonites. There will also be three tribunals—a local tribunal of two persons, named by the senior County Court judge and a Board of Selection, chosen by Parliament; an appeal tribunal, composed of a judge of any Court nominated by the Chief Justice of the Province; and the final appeal court, consisting of the Judge of the Supreme Court of the Dominion.

OBITUARY.

The Late Sir William Macdonald.

Sir William Christopher Macdonald, Chancellor of McGill University since Lord Strathcona's death, and one of its most generous benefactors, died at Montreal on Monday in his eighty-eighth year. He was a native of Prince Edward Island, where his father was President of the Legislative Council, and his grandfather founded settlements after serving with distinction on the Loyalist side in the American Revolution. Sir William, who commenced business in Montreal in 1854, became the head of the great tobacco manufacturing company which bears his name. He was a director and large shareholder of the Bank of Montreal and the Royal Trust Co. Reserved and unostentatious and taking little part in public affairs, Sir William, who was a bachelor, was a princely benefactor to many educational and other institutions. His gifts to McGill alone have totalled millions of dollars, and he founded the Agricultural College at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, near Montreal, which bears his name, at a cost of over $5,000,000. In 1898 he was knighted by Queen Victoria. His portrait appears on page 307.

The deaths of the following are also announced:—

At Rutland, Vt., Mr. William Grace, of Montreal (76). At Montreal, Mr. Adolph Rodrigue Personault (68), a well-known French-Canadian, and the Hon. F. E. Gilman, K.C., a member of the Legislative Council of Quebec since 1887. At Oakville, near Toronto, Mr. Almond Penfield Turner, formerly president of the Canadian Copper Co. (52); Mr. W. H. Price, police magistrate of Maintoulin Island (69); Mr. Alfred Ruggles Williams (79), president of the A. R. Williams Machinery Co., Ltd. At Toronto, Mr. John Earls, a former secretary to the Canadian Freight Association and a well-known railwayman; Mr. Fulford Arnoldi, Clerk-in-Chambers of the Supreme Court of Ontario and Examiner-in-Law (67); and Mr. M. H. Thompson, of the Ontario Department of Education. At St. Catharines, Major Jas. Hiscott, ex-M.P.P. (92). At Quebec, Hon. C. E. Dubord, Legislative Councillor. At Berwick, N.S., Mr. S. W. Bligh, Stipendiary Magistrate. At Vancouver, Mr. Simon Leiser, a prominent merchant. At Winnipeg, Mr. Justice Richards, Puisne Judge (68). At Regina, Mr. E. J. Wright, for many years Deputy Provincial Treasurer and Registrar of Joint-Stock Companies.

VICTORIA CROSSES FOR CANADIANS.

Four Heroes and the Deeds of Splendid Bravery They Performed.

A SPECIAL supplement to the London Gazette, of June 8, published last Saturday, announced that the King had been graciously pleased to approve of the award of the Victoria Cross to the undermentioned Canadians :—

Capt. (Actg. Maj.) Thain Wendell MacDowell, D.S.O., Can. Inf. Bn.

For most conspicuous bravery and indomitable resolution in face of heavy machine gun and shell fire.

By his initiative and courage this officer, with the assistance of two runners, was enabled, in the face of great difficulties, to capture two machine guns, besides two officers and seventy-five men.

Although wounded in the hand, he continued for five days to hold the position gained, in spite of heavy shell fire, until eventually relieved by his battalion.

By his bravery and prompt action he undoubtedly succeeded in rounding up a very strong enemy machine post.

Lt. Frederick Maurice Watson Harvey, Can. Force.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty.

During an attack by his regiment on a village a party of the enemy ran forward to a wired trench just in front of the village and opened rapid rifle and machine gun fire at a very close range, causing heavy casualties in the leading troop.

At this critical moment, when the enemy showed no intention whatever of retiring and fire was still intense, Lieut. Harvey, who was in command of the leading troop, ran forward well ahead of his men and dashed at the trench, still fully manned, jumped the wire, shot the machine gunner and captured the gun.

His most courageous act undoubtedly had a decisive effect on the success of the operation.

CAPT. T. W. MACDOWELL, V.C., D.S.O.

No. 53730 L.-Sgt. Ellis Welwood Sifton, late Can. Inf. Bn.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty in attack.

During the attack in enemy trenches, Sgt. Sifton's company was held up by machine gun fire which inflicted many casualties. Having located the gun he charged it single-handed, killing all the crew.

A small enemy party advanced down the trench, but he succeeded in keeping these off till our men had gained the position.

In carrying out this gallant act he was killed, but his conspicuous valour undoubtedly saved many lives and contributed largely to the success of the operation.

No. 427586 Pte. William Johnstone Milne, late Can. Inf. Bn.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty

On approaching the first objective, Pte. Milne observed an enemy machine gun firing on our advancing troops. Crawling on hands and knees, he succeeded in reaching the gun, killing the crew with bombs, and capturing the gun.

On the line re-forming, he again located a machine gun in the support line, and stalking this second gun as he had done the first, he succeeded in putting the crew out of action and capturing the gun.

His wonderful bravery and resource on these two occasions undoubtedly saved the lives of many of his comrades.

Pte. Milne was killed shortly after capturing the second gun.

THE NEW V.Cs

Lieut. Harvey was born at Athboy, Co. Meath, Ireland, in 1888, and hails from Pincher Creek, Alberta, where he was ranching before the war. He had a fancy for soldiering prior to the outbreak of hostilities, and held a commission in the 23rd Alberta Rangers. He enlisted in the ranks of a Calgary mounted regiment. He is a son-in-law of Mr. Robert Patterson, M.L.A., of Macleod, and his wife lives at Medicine Hat.

Major MacDowell (as he now is) is the first graduate of Toronto University to gain the Victoria Cross. He was born at Lachute, Que., and is in his twenty-seventh year. He is the third son of the late Rev. John Vincent MacDowell (formerly pastor of the Methodist Church at Lyn, Ont.), and of Mrs. J. F. Richardson, who resides at Maitland, near Brockville, Ont. Major MacDowell played rugby and hockey for the 'Varsity in 1912-13, and at the outbreak of war was in Alberta. He enlisted in January, 1915, in Lieut.-Col. Edwards' Ottawa battalion, and went with his unit to the Bermudas. His military career has been meteoric. He went to France last August, and for conspicuous gallantry at Desire Trench in November, when he captured three enemy machine-guns and fifty prisoners, was awarded the D.S.O. One of his brother officers recently designated him as "a whirlwind." Major MacDowell was wounded in January, and in April was in hospital at Boulogne suffering from tonsilitis, returning to duty on May 1. He was this week in London on leave. Major MacDowell has three brothers in khaki—Lieut. M. W. (Mounted Rifles), Lieut. C. M. (who has just received his commission in the Artillery), and Sapper N. L. MacDowell, at present with the Divisional Signallers at Ottawa.

THE LATE PTE. W. J. MILNE, V.C.

Lance-Sergt. E. W. Sifton, Western Ontario Regiment, was a farmer, but he exchanged the ploughshare for the sword, enlisting at St. Thomas in October, 1914. His next-of-kin reside at Wallacetown, Ont., where he was born in 1891.

Pte. W. J. Milne, V.C., Manitoba Regt., was a Saskatchewan farmer. He was a son of Mr. David Milne, contractor, Steele's Land, Cambusnethan, Wishaw. He was a farm worker at Herdshill, Newmains, before he emigrated to Canada seven years ago. He enlisted at Moose Jaw in September, 1915, and had been nearly a year at the Front. He was 25.

In 1915 four members of the Overseas Military Forces were awarded the Victoria Cross—Capt. F. A. C. Scrimger (C.A.M.C.), Lieut. F. W. Campbell (killed), Col.-Sergt. F. W. Hall (killed), and Lce.-Cpl. F. Fisher (killed)—and in 1916 two —Pte. (Act.-Cpl.) L. Clarke (died of wounds), and Pte. J. C. Kerr (who is now stationed in London).

A further consignment of Ontario apples is being sent out this week by Lieut.-Col. Richard Reid, Agent-General for the Province. In all, the Ontario Government is dispatching 20,000 cases for disposal among the Dominion's soldiers.

"My wish in coming to this country is to pay a tribute to Great Britain, land of freedom, whose sons, wherever they go, bring with them emancipation and liberty. Under every sky their mission is not to reduce men to slavery, but to awaken conscience and form character. I would assure Great Britain, our noble Ally, of our gratitude for having risen to a man to the rescue of France in this her supreme hour."—M. Viviani at Ottawa.

RAILWAYS AND FORESTRY.—I.

Useful Units of the Canadian Overseas Forces.

(By "Canada's" Special Representative.)

IT may seem strange at first that the Overseas Military Forces of Canada should have anything to do with such subjects as form the title of this article, but when the importance of rapid transportation on the one hand and the saving of shipping on the other is considered, it will be realised that expert assistance in these matters is as vital to the efficiency of the military machine as any other part of the organisation of war.

Long before the storm which the Germans prepared had burst on Europe, those who were watching the activity of the German Empire noticed with apprehension the extraordinary network of strategic railways which had been built on both her eastern and western frontiers. It was owing to the possession of these military lines that Germany was able to mass troops: it was owing to the absence of adequate railway facilities that the Allies on the West were unable to follow up quickly their retreating foe after the Battle of the Marne. For many months past the efforts of the higher command have been directed very largely towards remedying this vital defect on that portion of the Front occupied by the British Army. We know of the large number of engines and great masses of rolling stock, rails and sleepers carried over from England, and in Canada some hundreds of miles of line were asked for by the Imperial authorities.

Canadian Railway Battalions.

When this want was made known it at once occurred to Canadians that here was another means wherein Canada could be of real assistance to the common cause. In that country there are great contractors and railway experts whose whole time for years past has been spent in constructing railways under all kinds of climatic and other difficulties. To these men the construction of branch lines and feeders in France, where, except for military exigencies, every possible need and requirement were immediately forthcoming, the work was easy, and among all the railway battalions in France those raised and commanded by Canadians have done as well in their own line of activity as have their brothers in the trenches. Canadians, of course, form only a small part of the army of railway workers now engaged behind the British Front. They are officered by men, many of them wealthy and celebrated railway builders, whose experience in the wilds now stands them in good stead.

Railways and Light Tram Lines.

The work now being undertaken consists in laying standard gauge railways and also light tram lines. Both of these systems are pushed forward with the utmost rapidity to keep abreast of our advance, and what this means in the carriage of munitions and supplies, as well as supplying transport for the great guns, only a military man can understand. The light tramways, on which quite capacious cars are drawn by a petrol tractor, are laid down much more quickly than the standard gauge, and in parts of the front are laid down actually under shell-fire. It is by means of these strategic tram lines that our wounded are so rapidly and comfortably evacuated after great battles, and as the advance proceeds the lines farther behind are ripped up and brought forward to be laid down again to keep pace with the next advance.

I travelled over many miles of these lines of light tramways, and although the progress at best was under 10 miles an hour, it was easy to appreciate the immense value of this means of communication and transport. It was even better appreciated from a study of the maps. Here one could see that a considerable extent of country might lie between two of the older French railway systems, with, perhaps, in the centre only one main road. These railway lines would be looped up in many directions by means of tramways, which also would connect with the roads, and in that way congestion of transport was avoided, and the shells and supplies were always on hand when wanted. In one little sector of the line, for instance, we were told by the C.O. responsible for its construction that it had the previous week carried, in addition to a great tonnage of ordinary supplies, 3,000 lorry loads, which will give some idea of the immense relief afforded by these light railways to the motor lorry service.

An Interesting Trip.

It was an interesting trip, standing in one of these low but capacious cars attached to a tractor on the little tramway, to skirt the town of Arras and notice line after line of trenches which ringed the city for miles on the east. Some of these trenches ran right among buildings, others paralleled railway embankments; barbed wire was everywhere. War, however, had gone on, and the trenches were now done with, but evidently an immense amount of labour must have been employed in their making and many years must elapse before they all fall in and the earth returns to her original contours. A network of these little tram lines now covers the country, running in places quite close to the front-line trenches.

In passing from this subject it might be mentioned that, while the principal officers, mechanics and others are Canadians who are thoroughly conversant with railway work, the ordinary labour for the construction of these lines is obtained either from the army or from the native population.

The Census and Statistics Office at Ottawa states that the population of Alberta has increased 32½ per cent. in five years, and the cities of Calgary and Edmonton have each over 50,000 inhabitants. There are in the Province six cities, nine towns and ninety-four villages.

On behalf of the American Red Cross Society, which has already established a depôt in Grosvenor Crescent, Mrs. Smith-Carington has been enquiring into the organisation of the Canadian Red Cross Society, and accompanied by Major Claude Bryan, the Assistant Commissioner to Col. Hodgetts, inspected the workrooms and depôts of the Society in London.

THE CANADIAN TRAINING SCHOOL

Courses for Officers and Cadets

The Canadian T[illegible] trough, for cadets and officers taking the O.T.C. course had a reputation of being one of the best of its kind, but the conditions and environments were not considered entirely suitable and facilities [illegible] The officer most responsible for this selection was Lieut.-Col. A. C. Critchley, D.S.O. [illegible] mirably demonstrated.

During the first six weeks' course the school was twice visited and inspected by Major-General (now Sir) R. E. W. Turner, V.C., C.B., D.S.O., Commanding the Canadian Forces in the British Isles, and he was greatly pleased at the smartness, turnout, enthusiasm and general all-round work shown by those taking the course. Not only did he personally express his appreciation of the fine work being carried on by the Commandant and his staff of instructors, but he also arranged that the Brigade Commanders and Reserve Battalion Commanders, as well as several other high officials, should visit the school and witness its work. Each and all of the visitors were exceptionally well pleased with the training, and all were emphatic in their statement that it was easily the best class that had taken O.T.C. work at the Canadian Training School.

Indeed, so highly did the visitors think of the efforts of the officers and cadets that a donation was given to the school of a trophy, on which the three best cadets in each class were to have their names inscribed. After the school has closed the trophy will be removed to the Archives Office at Ottawa. The first three names to appear on this cup from the first class at Bexhill are those of Cadet Baker, Lieut. Turner and Cadet Gibson.

In addition to this cup the Commandant of the school, Lieut.-Col. A. C. Critchley, D.S.O., presented another cup, to be awarded to the best all-round company taking the course. The company was to be judged in respect of every detail—training, smartness, promptness on parade, efficiency at sports, etc. The first company to win the distinction was No. [illegible], Capt. John Collins, O.C.

Further evidence of the satisfaction with which the military authorities viewed the progress of the class was given when the class was placed in moving pictures, a kinematograph machine being sent from Headquarters in [illegible] only succeeding classes but training camps in all parts [illegible] shown the efficiency of this class in their work.

The class opened on March 19 and closed on April 28, and in his closing address the Commandant thanked his [illegible] tional staff for their endeavours and labours, also the officers and cadets who had been present at the class for their interest and general enthusiasm they had displayed. On their part the officers and cadets will always retain the most pleasant recollections of their sojourn under the genial Commandant, and his very able instructional staff.

Last week the school had the honour of a visit from H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, who expressed himself as highly pleased with the present class.

Lipsett, C.M.G., returned to duty in France on Tuesday last, after a few days' leave in England. Major Porteous came to England from British Columbia with the old 48th B.C. Batt. early in the summer of 1915. Later in the year this battalion was converted into the 3rd Pioneer Batt., and as such went to France, with Major Porteous as Adjutant. Quite recently the battalion has been disbanded, the officers and men being distributed among two B.C. infantry battalions at the Front, and its commanding officer, Lieut.-Col. W. J. H. Holmes, D.S.O., being appointed to the command of a group of entrenching units. Its place as a pioneer battalion has been taken by Lieut.-Col. Kingsmill's Toronto Pioneer Batt., recruited mainly from the 10th Royal Grenadiers of that city. Before being absorbed, the 3rd Pioneers were highly complimented upon the splendid work they had performed at the Front, both by Lieut.-General Byng and Major-General Lipsett.

Readers of Canada, as well as his many friends, will regret to hear that Lieut. E. Buxton Smyth, R.F.C., has had his leg amputated. The story of this gallant young flying officer's capture by the Germans and his ultimate rescue by the Canadians appeared in Canada a month ago, and his portrait in the issue of the following week. He is progressing satisfactorily.

Major the Rev. G. A. Wells, Senior Chaplain to the Canadian troops at Shorncliffe, underwent a couple of operations at Moore Barracks, Canadian Military Hospital, Shorncliffe, on Monday last. He will be confined to hospital for some little time, but is progressing satisfactorily.

During the war he has lost four brothers and a cousin in active service.

Will you please help us to do the same this year, because the need is greater?

4,254 children admitted since War broke out, many being the children of soldiers and sailors.

WITH CANADIANS IN CAPTIVITY.—VI.

By "Greenjacket."

A Dominion Officer's Experiences of German Prison Life.

On the rare occasions that a German prison camp receives a visit from an inspecting officer, the Corps Commander perhaps, some princeling or a neutral representative, the camp authorities are very careful that the place should look at its best. The orderlies are set to work at 4 a.m. to scrub the place from top to bottom. The officers are made to get up at 6 a.m. in order to give them clean bedding. The Germans put on their smartest uniform Pickelhaube helmets and Iron Crosses, and the whole camp is in a state of bustle and excitement and preparation for the great event.

In order to brighten Halle before one of these periodical inspections the orderlies were put to work to make a small concrete fountain, the water was laid on, shrubs in pots were hired in the town and planted all round, and when the General and his glittering Staff arrived next day he was duly impressed with the fountain playing on the still soft concrete and the flowering shrubs growing remarkably well in solid brick dust. Next day the shrubs went back to the shop and the fountain was at rest, the basin being used as receptacle for cigaretto ends and waste paper, adding yet another eye-sore to a camp that no civilised country would have tolerated for an instant.

The Kitchen and Dining Room.

The one part of the camp that receives more attention, probably, than any other is the kitchen and the dining room. The latter, after being thoroughly aired and scrubbed, is polished to a still further extent. Clean oilcloth is laid on the tables, pots of flowers are produced, three to each table, an imposing menu is drawn up, and some attempt is made to serve the meals in a cleanly fashion. All day the commandant carefully returns all salutes, smiles on the officers, and, proud as a barnyard rooster, conducts the visitors round his mixed command.

The party usually arrive at the dining-room during the progress of dinner, and with much clicking and bowing the menu for the day is handed to the officer inspecting the camp. This is probably what greets his eye:—

27/5/16. MENU. BISCHOFSWERDE.

BREAKFAST
Coffee, milk, sugar. Rolls.

LUNCH.
Soup. Veal. Two vegetables.

SUPPER.
Fish. Potatoes, carrots. Tea with rhum.

The German officers bow to the prisoners and leave the room. The General leaves the camp with the impression that the prisoners are really very well fed, the dining-room attractive and the camp particularly clean. He probably adds the pious wish that his countrymen in the enemy's hands are as well treated.

The Menu Analysed.

Now let us look into this menu. In the first place, it is a particularly good one, drawn up for the eagle eye of authority.

Breakfast, according to the book of the words, consists of coffee, sugar, milk and rolls. The "coffee" is made from acorns, looks like a thin soup, and tastes like sweet mud. We must take for granted that the sugar and milk are in it—the quantity or proportion of each is not stated. Two cups of this unappetising liquid are allowed to each officer. The "rolls" of the menu are represented on the table by a piece of grey-coloured potato bread, some 3 in. long, placed on each man's plate. The roll usually contained carraway seeds, either to give it a distinctive flavour or to take away the taste—I was never sure which.

Lunch, now, was a very different meal. There was sure to be a certain variety here. The soup was a colourless, tasteless liquid, often with something floating in it, and gave one the impression that it had been sent in by mistake. The two vegetables were practically always potatoes and carrots, mashed. Occasionally pumpkin took the place of the potatoes. Often the soup and meat were sent in together, the meat consisting of boiled horse—the friend of man, but not on this occasion—and the soup of the water in which it was boiled. The mere sight of this small piece of meat, with a piece of yellow fat attached, floating in greasy water, did not add to one's appetite.

But the days of even this kind of meat are long past as far as prisoners are concerned, and the infinitesimal amount allowed now has to be minced and mixed in with the potatoes in order that everybody may have a chance of getting some, and even then the five senses combined do not inform you whether it is a meat or meatless day.

The "fish" on the supper menu consisted of two sardines or one smoked herring. The vegetables were the re-hash of those uneaten at lunch, while the rhum, to our great disappointment, turned out to be a strictly teetotal, syrupy mixture that absolutely spoilt what might have been otherwise a good cup of Occasionally an apple or an orange would be placed alternately on each plate. This figured on the menu as "fruit, various." Living however was cheap. For what we never touched we were only compelled to pay, whether we wished to or not, 1s. 6d. per day.

Such was a good menu in an officers' camp one year ago. What must the food be like in the men's camps to-day?

Relying on Parcels from England

The fact is, in all seriousness, the British prisoner-of-war relies entirely for absolutely everything in the way of nourishment on his parcels from England. Cakes and sweets are very nice and always acceptable, but it takes meat—red meat—to keep a man in health and good spirits. On the German diet, even on hospital rations, a wounded man takes a very long time in recovering, as he receives practically no food of a strengthening nature. On the other hand, many men cannot stand tinned food only for a very long period. Their constitutions will not allow it. If possible, therefore, relations should send out from time to time fresh bacon, uncooked hams and fresh eggs. Eggs travel quite well when carefully packed, and if thoroughly greased before being sent off will keep fresh for a month or even longer. Some officers even received guinea-fowls' eggs, as the shells are very hard, and one scarcely ever had one broken. An uncooked ham, too, will keep a long while, as will also half a side of bacon. Extracts of meat are another form of nourishment, taking up little space, and being of the utmost value to a man in poor health. Dried fruits and vegetables are things easily sent, and are very appetising as well as being easily prepared.

ORDERLIES PEELING POTATOES AT HALLE.
In the early days of the war the officers, as in the many other camps, were made to peel their own potatoes, wash vegetables, etc.

Food from England

For more than six months now the German authorities have forbidden prisoners to write direct to shops in England, but they are still permitted to ask their relations to send them anything in particular that they may require. Personally, I dispatched a long list of food required—some £10 worth—to a relation, asking him to send it to me regularly on the first of each month until I told him to stop. Though one was not allowed to mention the name of any shop, one had to rely on their using a certain amount of intelligence and that one's order would be obeyed without waiting for explanations.

The loss of life among Canadian troops on the battlefields of Europe has been as high as one man in every seven, according to the reports of representatives of insurance companies in the Dominion, who were delegates to the convention of the Actuarial Association of America. The highest mortality has been in the Infantry, where, some of the actuaries said, the death-rate at times reached 20 per cent. The lowest is in the C.A.M.C.

CANADIAN MILITARY SPORT.

Boxing, Baseball, and Running.

Some excellent sport was seen on Friday last week at the Holborn Stadium in the boxing tournament, arranged on behalf of the Canadian and Australian Field Comforts Funds. A composite committee, with Lt.-Col. H. G. Mayes as chairman, were responsible for the excellent arrangements. Silver cups were given by Major-Gen. the Hon. J. W. McCay, C.B., G.O.C. Australian Forces in Britain: Major-Gen. Sir Richard Turner, V.C., K.C.M.G., G.O.C. Canadian Troops in Britain; Brig.-Gen. J. Paton (A.I.F.), Brig.-Gen. J. M. Antil (A.I.F.), Brig.-Gen. A. D. McRae and Brig.-Gen P. E. Thacker (C.O.M.F.); and gold medals by Col. R. Spencer-Browne, Col D. M. McWhae and Lt.-Col. G. H. Knox (A.I.F.), and the Canadian Army Gymnastic Staff.

At the close of the entertainment, which never for a moment lost interest, Major.-Gen. the Hon. J. W. McCay distributed the prizes to the following:-

BANTAM WEIGHTS.—1, Dr. J. Shears, C.F.A.; 2, Sgt. G. B. Haggart, 1st C.C.D.

Batt. by 15 runs to 14; at Paddington, London Americans beat Uxbridge by 9 to 4; at Epsom, Taplow beat Epsom by 5 to 4; at Orpington, Orpington beat Bushey Park by 8 to 7.

The Reserve Canadians took part on Saturday in the final stages of the Aldershot Command Athletic Association's regimental Marathon relay race. It was won by the 101st Training Reserve team (2 hours 7 min. 33 sec. for the 20 miles), the London Regiment being second.

CANADIAN SCHOOL OF MUSKETRY, SHORNCLIFFE.

The Canadian School of Musketry in England was started at Shorncliffe in March, 1915, since which time 1,430 officers and 1,197 N.C.O.s have received instruction in musketry.

The authorised Instructional Staff consists of the following:—Major B. H. Harrison, Commandant; Lieut. A. Raker, Instructor; Lieut. O. B. Stanion, Assistant Instructor; Lieut. J. S. W. Moll, Adjutant and Quartermaster, and twelve Staff Sergeant instructors.

Major B. H. Harrison served as a subaltern with the 3rd Northamptonshire Regt. in South Africa during the Boer War; and later, four years with the Cape Mounted Riflemen. During the present war he was appointed to a commission in the 88th Regt. Victoria Fusiliers in 1914, acted as Adjutant of that regiment in 1915, and left for England May, 1916, as second in command of the Victoria Fusiliers Overseas Battalion.

Lieut. Raker can count twenty-six years' military service. He was an instructor at Hythe Musketry School for eleven years, prior to March, 1915, when he was transferred from the Imperial Forces to the Canadians for musketry duties, and was given a commission in the C.E.F.

Lieut. Stanion came over from Canada with the 23rd Batt. C.E.F., saw service with the 3rd Batt. in France at Festubert, was wounded at Givenchy, and received his commission in August, 1916.

Lieut. Moll left Canada in June, 1915, with the 36th Batt. C.E.F., and in August, 1916, was appointed to a commission.

During the period that the school has been in existence thirty-three Staff Sergt. Instructors have been employed, ten of whom have been appointed to commissions in the Canadian Overseas Forces.

The great importance of good rifle shooting during the present war cannot be over-estimated, and it is the aim and object of all members of the Canadian School to turn out the candidates of each course trained to the greatest possible excellence, and thoroughly capable of instructing others in the use of the revolver and rifle.

An Order-in-Council has been issued at Ottawa by the Government prohibiting betting at race-tracks from August 1 until six months after the war, says a Canadian Daily Record cablegram.

Lieut. H. B. Bell-Irving, R.N.V.R., in command of H.M. drifter I.F.S., which on Monday brought down two German seaplanes and put two others to flight, belongs to a well-known Vancouver family.

Sir Julian Byng, said the Bishop of New Westminster at the Canadian Club, at Victoria, had told him to tell the men with whom he came in contact, that there never was an offensive or a minor operation planned by him concerning which he had not prefaced it by invoking the aid of the Divinity. Sir Julian Byng, he added, called in to his quarters every Sunday morning, the members of his staff in order to take part in a solemn religious exercise.

THE LONDON MARKET.

London, Tuesday.

Business on the Stock Exchange during the past week has remained on a strictly moderate scale. Markets have been steady as a whole.

In the Canadian section conditions have been no more animated than elsewhere. The gilt-edged securities of the Dominion have ruled steady without much change. The old fours at 80½ and the 4½ per cents. at 93 are both unchanged. In the railroad group Canadian Pacifics are now hesitating after a further steady advance to 177. The traffic for the first week of the current month shows a gross gain of $253,000. Grand Trunks have still been disposed to fluctuate within narrow limits, but a forward tendency has predominated, and on balance there are several gains of ¼ to ½ to record. The weekly traffic in this case was £46,460 heavier. Canadian Northern Income Fives have fallen a point to 37½.

In the land group Hudson's Bays fell back a trifle on realising at one time, but they are now unchanged at 7⅛. Southern Albertas have weakened to 3s.—on sales by those anxious to avoid the liability on its new shares—and Western Canada Lands to 2s. 6d.

As regards Industrials, there has been continued activity in Cockshutt Plow Prefs., which have marked up to 83, for reasons dealt with fully in our Banking and Finance page. Canadian Car issues have not moved, but Dominion Steels at 64 have fallen 3, and Steel of Canada at 62 is a point down. City Services are without change.

Brazilian Tractions have advanced a fraction to 47½, and the Mexican group generally has been firm.

OUR TORONTO LETTER.

TORONTO, May 31.

Although the volume of business has continued very small, there has, during the past week, been a noticeable improvement in tone in the security markets. Lately the steel stocks have shown decidedly more strength than last week both in Montreal and Toronto, and there has been encouraging activity in other industrials. Among the paper stocks Brompton has shown strength, but Riordon and Wayagamack have been weaker. The textiles have been firm. In Toronto Maple Leaf did not show such response, as might have been expected, to the very encouraging annual statement which has been issued, and which showed the company's net earnings for the past year to have been $738,644, or over $208,000 more than for the previous year.

The past few days have been marked by the issue of many very strong annual reports by institutions and companies of various characters.

The Dominion Steel Corporation shows record net earnings of $12,967,874. Mr. J. K. L. Ross, of Montreal, and Sir William D. Reid, of Montreal and St. John's, Newfoundland, have been elected to the Board of the Corporation to fill the seats left vacant by the deaths of the Hon. R. Mackay and the Hon. D. Mackeen.

Canadian Cars' long-expected report shows that, exclusive of the results of the Russian contracts, the company's net profits for the year ending September 30, 1916, were $353,255, equal to 4.7 on the Preferred stock, which compares with a deficit of over $500,000 in the previous year.

Civic Investment and Industrial Company shows a net income of $2,486,009 for its first year, earning therefore 5.2 on its capital stock.

Dominion Textile shows profits of $1,582,705, or an increase of over $100,000 as compared with the previous year, the percentage of earnings on Common stock being 15.6 as compared with 12.7.

The Merchants' Bank report, now issued, shows profits for the year of $1,120,308, equal to 16 per cent. on the paid-up capital. Total assets show the truly remarkable increase of $24,769,195 during the year, and now stand at $121,130,558.

The P. Lyall & Sons' Construction Company shows profits of $915,449 for the year, which is nearly four times the profit shown for the previous year.

It is a rather remarkable commentary on the present times that the publication of so many reports of such strength and within such a short period should have been so little reflected in the security markets.

Among current prices, Scotia is 95½, Dominion Steel Corporation 65, Steel of Canada 62, Cement 64, Civic Power 77⅝, Canadian General Electric 108, Dominion Bridge 130, Riordon 123½, Brompton 52, Wayagamack 68, Maple Leaf 105½, Steamships Pref. 85¾, Common 38, Dominion Textile 88, Toronto Railway 79. I note that bids for Winnipeg Railway stock declined the other day to 39.

The course of the market for mining shares has been irregular, but as a general result of the last ten days prices are lower. Among the gold stocks Hollinger is $4.25, Dome $11.65, McIntyre $1.48, Newray .64, Boston Creek .64, West Dome 19½, Dome Extension .12½. Among the silver stocks Keir Lake showed strength this week, rising to $4.85. Nipissing and Hargraves have been among the more active shares, the latest quotations respectively being $7.20 and 13½; among other silver prices are McKinley .54, Temiskaming .38, Crown Reserve .29½, La Rose .42, Peterson Lake .9½, Hollinger, in the four-weekly period which ended April 22, earned $71,688 more than the dividend requirement at the present reduced rate.

INVESTMENT NOTES.

In introducing in the Canadian Parliament, on May 14, a Bill to facilitate the financial arrangements between the British Government and the C.P.R., by which the latter, as has been explained fully in Canada, might assist in improving the exchange situation, Sir Thomas White explained that the entry of the United States into the war rendered it unnecessary at present to proceed with the plan. The British Government had, however, asked the company to proceed with the legislation, so that it might be available if required.

The entry of the United States into the war has, it seems, deprived further Canadian cities of the opportunity—of which some of them had already taken advantage—of buying back at a low price their debentures which had been issued in England, and replacing them by fresh issues, to be sold in the United States at a higher rate. The City of Montreal had a project of this nature in progress, by which the city expected to effect a reduction of about $5,000,000 in its outstanding debt through the redemption of some $30,000,000 of its debentures held in England. The city treasurer has informed the Board of Control that at the last moment, when all details had satisfactorily been completed, the change in financial conditions consequent upon the United States' action had necessitated the abandonment of the project.

By the declaration of a dividend of 5¼ per cent., payable on June 15, to holders of its Preferred stock, Canada Steamship Lines, Ltd., clears off its arrears of Preferred dividends. As illustrating the really remarkable change that has been wrought in the company's position in the past two years, it may be recalled that only in May, 1916, did the company, after an interval of nearly two years, resume payment of its Preferred dividends with a declaration of 1¾ per cent. Two other payments of similar amount were made later in 1916, and in March of this year 7 per cent. was paid. When the payment now announced is made, the shareholders will have received within the short time of 13½ months no less than 17½ per cent., which, it may be remarked, must be a remarkably satisfactory result for anyone who purchased the stock early in 1916, when it was obtainable at from 70 to 75.

Further evidence as to the revival in the demand for farm lands in the Prairie Provinces is contained in the recently issued annual reports of the Calgary and Edmonton Land Co. and the Land Corporation of Canada. The former company states:—"The demand for farm lands in Alberta, you will note from the sales, has been very good during the past year; in fact, this is the best year the company has had, as far as farm lands are concerned, since 1910. All lands purchased this year have been sold to adjoining farmers." The latter company states:—"We have lately been selling land—only a small quantity, it is true—at from £4 to £5 per acre." As regards town site property, the Calgary and Edmonton Co. report that no sales of any account have been made during the year, and there has been no demand for the company's town sites. The Land Corporation, on the other hand, is able to report sales of town lots at Craven, Alberta, which is interesting as being one of the first signs of vitality in this class of property for some time.

Figures now officially issued show that the Dominion Steel Corporation's net earnings for the year which ended March 31, were $12,967,874, representing earnings at the rate of 26.71 per cent. on the Common stock, thus exceeding in fact even the optimistic anticipations which have been current for some weeks past. Thus the last year is easily the company's record year, as the net profits exceed by nearly $6,000,000 the $7,004,316 earned during the previous year, which previously stood as the best year in the company's history. The clearing off of a year's dividend arrears on the Preferred stock of the Dominion Iron and Steel Co., the elimination of loans from banks, the repayment before maturity of the Corporation's issue of 6 per cent. 5-year notes, and the resumption of its Common stock dividend payments by the Corporation have all been noted in Canada as they occurred, and as an instance of the company's liquid strength it is noteworthy that cash and War Loans together figure in the balance-sheet at nearly $6,000,000, and that the revenues of the Corporation for last year included a moderate sum derived from the investment of surplus funds. It is pointed out that in two years the Corporation has approximately doubled its current assets and cut its current liabilities in half. The total profit and loss surplus at the end of the year was $11,937,577, but of this $3,000,000 has been set aside as a special reserve to provide for construction expenditures and War Tax for the past year, while $2,999,395 has been used to write off an old item representing discount on bonds sold. The balance carried forward into the current year is therefore $6,038,182

DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES.

We have received an urgent appeal from Dr. Barnardo's Homes in respect to the annual collection of 100,000 half-crowns for the Food Bill Fund for their great family of over 7,000 children during the coming lean months. Last year they raised 167,163 half-crowns in memory of the late Dr. Barnardo, and they are most anxious to do at least as well this year, because the need is greater owing to the constant increase in the cost of food. Dr. Barnardo's Homes have admitted over 4,000 children since war broke out, a large proportion of these being the children of our brave soldiers and sailors. Nearly 10,000 Barnardo boys are fighting for the Empire.

Gifts will be welcomed by the Hon. Director, Mr. William Baker, M.A., LL.B., at Headquarters, 18 to 26, Stepney Causeway, London, E.1. Cheques and orders payable "Dr. Barnardo's Homes" and crossed (notes should be registered).

Ontario after the War—WATER POWER.

The whole industrial success of Ontario may be said to depend upon the development of its water power.

The water power of Ontario is cheapened and made generally available by Government control and operation, and nearly every city and town in Ontario has already been provided with hydro-electric power both for lighting and manufacturing purposes.

The importance of this phase of development may be realised from the fact that Ontario to-day has 16,000 factories depending upon water power, with an annual output amounting to $579,000,000.

The enormous reserve of Ontario's water power may be realised from the fact that, of the many millions of horse-power available, only about 10 per cent. has, up to now, been brought under control.

NOTES ON INVESTMENTS.

The Big Jump in Cockshutt Plow 7 per Cent. Prefs.

One of the outstanding events in the Canadian section of the Stock Markets during the past week or so has been the remarkable recovery in the 7 per Cent. Cumulative Preferred shares of the Cockshutt Plow Company. At the time they were introduced on this market these shares were dealt in up to the region of 110, but during the early days of the War they at one time changed hands at as low as 42½, this rapid descent in the quotation being accelerated by the suspension of dividends three years ago. At that level and since Canada has consistently referred to the investment merits of this sound Canadian industrial security. Only a little while ago we pointed out that, seeing that there was about 20 per cent. of dividends in arrear, these shares in the neighbourhood of 60—65 were absurdly under-valued. Recent events have fully justified our views with regard to the undertaking and its Preference shares, for the price has recovered to over 80, these having been "marked" at as high as 83. Such a sharp upward movement has naturally attracted considerable attention. We believe the simple explanation to be well-informed buying on a market short of stock, in anticipation of an early resumption of dividends. It is not suggested that the whole, or even a part, of the arrears of dividend—now 21 per cent.—will be immediately paid off, but there is every reason for believing that the present position and prospects of the company justify the expectation that the Preference shareholders will shortly be in the happy position of receiving dividends again. The outlook is exceedingly hopeful. The company is full of orders—more, indeed, than it can comfortably handle—whilst the South African orders are making heavy demands on the company's output, and the only difficulty is in connection with materials and labour. Continuous orders are being received from Western Canada for traction plows and "gang" plows, and the demand for the former from this country is also very large. War conditions are hampering the company, and the question of securing adequate shipping facilities is, of course, a knotty problem, but business is considerably in advance of last year, and the company has this year had an opportunity—if it could have accepted all the orders offered—of doing the largest business in its history. In view of the strenuous efforts in this country to foster agriculture now and after the war, it is certain that this company will enormously benefit from the European demand now and at the cessation of hostilities for agricultural implements. In all the circumstances it is hardly surprising that, seeing the price now carries 21 per cent. of arrears of dividend, the Preference shares should not be regarded by well-informed people as by any means over-valued at the present quotation.

Canadian Car Figures for 1916.

At one time the fortunes of the Canadian Car & Foundry Co. were very closely followed by the London market, especially in relation to developments in connection with its entry into the list of Canadian munition manufacturers. Uncertainty latterly as to the results of the important Russian shell contract has been mainly responsible for a lessening of public interest in London in the company's securities, and a very heavy fall in their price, whilst the unexpected delay in the resumption of dividends on the Preferred Stock has also had a deterrent influence on the market position. For these reasons the belated annual report to September 30, 1916, just received in London, will attract much less attention than would otherwise have been the case. Those who look for enlightenment as to the Russian contract will be disappointed, for it is stated that information in regard to this will not be forthcoming until the annual meeting next month, the reason for this further delay being, of course, the dislocation caused by the disastrous January fire at the works at New Jersey, which caused serious delay in the completion of the important Russian contracts, and entailed complicated readjustments in connection with the accounts dealing with this enormous transaction. The hope is held out, however, that the results when disclosed will prove satisfactory to the shareholders. For the rest the Directors point out that the policy of railway retrenchment, which has been in operation in Canada during the period covered by the accounts, has been reflected in the company's general business, and that war munition orders were the chief factor in the year's operations. On the whole, whilst the results will not be up to the most sanguine expectations of those ultra optimists who were buying the shares a couple of years or so ago, in the neighbourhood of $120 to $130, they are sufficiently satisfactory when contrasted with those for the years immediately preceding.

The American headquarters of the Army and Navy Y.M.C.A. in London are situated in the new huts erected on the Aldwych site. The huts will be opened shortly.

A Welcome Recovery.

It is satisfactory to learn from the directors that the results achieved from the Russian contracts and the ordinary business will place the company "in a very satisfactory condition." It is stated that the orders on hand at the date of the report May 5 have an aggregate value of no less than $23,500,000. It is of interest to note that exclusive of the special Russian business, the combined output of the associated companies was approximately $14,300,000 for 1916, which compares with $5,500,000 only in 1915, $11,100,000 in 1914, and $27,000,000 in the pre-war period of 1913. It is pointed out that an initial loss in the export trade in cars was responsible for the fact that the profits of $353,255 were not greater, but it is encouraging to note that the experience gained in this connection is now enabling the company to conduct export work at a reasonable profit. One of the satisfactory features of the report is the evidence furnished as to the liquidation of outstanding obligations in connection with both the general business and the Russian contracts, and another is the wise provision made to charge outlay on special plant and equipment in connection with war munition orders against current earnings. How substantial has been the improvement in the financial position is shown by the fact that the surplus carried forward, which was $2,224,578 at the end of 1913, and had been seriously depleted by the deficits of 1914 and 1915—$592,309 and $558,471 respectively—and stood at the reduced figure of $1,073,798 at the end of 1915, has now been raised to the substantial figure of $1,427,054. We hope that these favourable developments will be regarded as justification for the resumption of dividends on the Preferred—now 21 per cent. in arrear, and the statements at the forthcoming meeting will be awaited with renewed interest, by those who have suffered keen disappointment in the past in connection with affairs of this important Canadian industrial undertaking.

NURSES' APRONS AND NEW IDEAS IN SUMMER FROCKS.

At the present moment Robinson & Cleaver's lace department is the Mecca of nurses who take a real pride in their equipment, for there may be seen the best and cheapest aprons that have been produced for the nurse's use. They are manufactured at Robinson & Cleaver's famous factory at Belfast. We illustrate one of these aprons. It is made very full and strong, of stout linen finished cotton. Round the hem of the skirt the measurement is 68 in., length of skirt 36 in., length of bib 15 in., width of bib 14 in., waist band measurement 29 in., and the special price is 2s. 11½d.

The Ready-to-Wear Frock, as created by Robinson & Cleaver, has achieved unbounded popularity. It is, of course, improved out of recognition from the "Ready made" of yesterday, for it is designed by leading fashion experts and made by highly-trained dressmakers, so that it fills a great want in these days when labour is scarce and the majority of women are too busy to spend hours in fitting. There is a wonderful range of models in ready-to-wear dresses in the new department on the ground floor at the "Linen Hall," Regent Street. They are made in a great variety of sizes and becoming styles.

Arrangements are, of course, made for customers to try on the dresses, and expert advice is at their disposal to enable them to choose just the model that will suit their particular figures.

In a recent inspection of Messrs. Robinson & Cleaver's stock there was noticed in particular a charming model named "Mortlake," made in voile with check patterns in various colours on white ground and finished with dainty collar and cuffs with a front of voile at 25s. 9d.; also the "Torquay" dress in fancy stripe voile with double collar of fine net with pleated net front and skirt box pleated front and back, this being made in a large variety of shades at 35s. 9d.

Few comparatively of the general public are aware of the excellent adjunct of the work of the National Refuges for Homeless and Destitute Children, 164, Shaftesbury Avenue, London, W.C.2, which is to be found in the Fordham House Working Boys' Home. There are many mothers who have not the accommodation at home for the lads who have finished their training in the Country Homes, nor are they in a position to assist them in securing good employment. By a wise provision the committee are able to look after such lads and to see that they are placed in situations which may lead them to become skilled workmen, or able to fill positions of trust. Truly a work making for good citizens in the days to come. It is asking for help.

The new Act, when in operation, will impose additional duties of 1 per cent. on estates of from $50,000 to $100,000, 1½ per cent. between $100,000 and $200,000, with increases of ½ per cent. on each $100,000 up to $600,000, above which the additional duty will be 5 per cent. Under the existing Act the tax on estates which pass to lineal ancestors, excepting father or mother, or to brothers or sisters of ancestors or to their descendants, is 5 per cent. on all amounts over $5,000. Under the new measure the taxes will be as follows:—On estates of $5,000 to $25,000, 5 per cent.; $25,000 to $50,000, 7½ per cent., plus ½ per cent. super-tax; $50,000 to $100,000, 10 per cent., plus 1 per cent.; $100,000 and upwards, 12½ per cent., with a super-tax of 1½ per cent. on amounts up to $150,000, rising by ½ per cent. on each $50,000 on estates up to $450,000, after which it will be at the rate of 5 per cent. On estates which pass to more distant relations or to strangers in blood the duty under the present Act is 10 per cent. on all amounts over $5,000. Under the new Bill the duty in these cases also will be heavily increased upon a graduated scale reaching a maximum of 20 per cent.

A cablegram from the Minister of the Interior at Ottawa states that the seeding of spring grains in Ontario was practically completed on the 4th inst. The young fields are looking promising, and fall wheat is improving.

At the Wigmore Hall to-day (Saturday), at 3.15 p.m., Miss Iris Viney (soprano) and Colin Seymour (solo pianoforte) are to appear, with Mrs. J. N. Justice and Mr. Albert Mallinson as accompanists: and next Wednesday there will be given the students' concert of the Mathilde Verne College of Music.

At the Æolian Hall on Friday, June 22, at 3 p.m., Mr. Edgar Haddock will give a concert of vocal and instrumental works by British composers, in aid of St. Dunstan's Hostel for Blinded Soldiers and Sailors.

"MERCHANTS' BANK OF CANADA."

The report for the year ended April 30 shows profits of $1,120,309, after making provision for any doubtful debts. This equals 16 per cent. on the paid up capital, and is an increase of $169,596 over the previous year. Adding the balance brought into the year the total amount to be dealt with was $1,371,293. Of this, dividends absorbed $700,000, and war tax, $70,000; $30,000 was donated to the Canadian Patriotic and Red Cross Funds, $50,000 was contributed to Officers' Pension Fund, and $100,000 was written off bank premises account, leaving a balance of $421,293 to be carried into the current year. Noteworthy features of the balance sheet are the increase of $19,925,045 in deposits, which now stand at $92,102,074 despite withdrawals for investment in the Dominion War Loan. Total assets have increased by $24,769,195 to $121,130,558, of which liquid assets account for $52,041,624 or 48.87 of the bank's liabilities to the public. While thus maintaining the strength and liquidity of its position, the increase of current loans and discounts to $62,737,958 indicates that the bank is thoroughly taking its part in the commerce of the country. Increases of nearly $1,400,000 and of over $6,000,000 respectively in the bank's holdings of Canadian Government and Canadian municipal securities reflects the share the bank is taking in both Dominion and local Canadian finance.

PARCELS or SEMI-STARVATION!

Were it not for the parcels of food which reach them from home the British in the German Prisoners' Camps would be in a constant state of semi-starvation. The food provided by the German Authorities, besides being always unpalatable, is quite inadequate for their sustenance. These parcels are a vital necessity to our countrymen. Will you not, therefore, help the

British Prisoners of War Food Parcels and Clothing Fund

(registered under War Charities Act and authorised by Central Prisoners of War Committee)

to maintain the REGULAR SUPPLY to those prisoners under their care?

CANADIAN HOSPITAL INSPECTION.

Major Claude Bryan, Assistant Canadian Red Cross Commissioner, accompanied Mr. G. Cyril Cassels and Mr. Charles Cambie, members of the committee of the Society in London, last week-end on a tour of inspection. They visited Sturry Court, near Canterbury, the residence of Lord Milner, where a number of Canadian officers are received, and Mrs. Yates, widow of Major H. B. Yates, C.A.M.C., is matron. They went on to Ramsgate to inspect the Granville Special Hospital and the Chatham House Annexe (arts and crafts department). They saw the new buildings and steel huts erected at the Princess Patricia Red Cross Hospital, Ramsgate, also the Canadian Officers' Convalescent Home at Broadstairs, of which Lieut.-Col. Goldsmith is O.C., and Miss Wilson, R.R.C., is matron; thence to the Canadian Red Cross Nurses' Hospital at Cliftonville, of which Mrs. Johnson, widow of Major Johnson, is matron, and where 31 nurses are now in residence.

WAR-TIME ECONOMY IN CLOTHING.

Few people realise the enormous economy of having garments scientifically cleaned for a few shillings, instead of buying new ones for many pounds. Nowadays such saving in personal expenditure is a national virtue. Nevertheless, it is a new idea to many that a topcoat, gown or suit can have the period of its usefulness and ornamental value doubled or trebled by skilled treatment, which removes dirt, revives colours, and restores shape to an extent that converts an old into practically a new garment.

Burberrys, of Haymarket, despite the many obstacles, such as shortage of labour and volatile solvents, by which the cleaning trade is hampered, have enlarged and re-organised their cleaning works, and have been very successful in maintaining their reputation for efficient and expeditious services, although, owing to uncertainty in volume of work and transport irregularities, it is almost impossible just now to make time the essence of any contract. This problem is much aggravated by the fact that Burberrys clean and re-proof their own military and naval weatherproofs free of charge to officers, and naturally give priority to such garments, whose owners are serving our country in the field, and cannot afford to wait for anything so vital to their health and comfort as a Burberry safeguard.

In spite of the greatly increased cost, we believe that Burberrys' price list for cleaning, repressing or dyeing has not been altered since the war. Particulars of their prices are obtainable from Burberrys, Haymarket, London, or Reading.

BISHOP OF LONDON AND CANADIANS

The Bishop of London, and Mrs. George Black, the wife of the Commissioner of the Yukon Territory, were the chief speakers at the annual meeting of the British Columbia and Yukon Church Aid Society on Monday, held at the Church House, Westminster.

The Bishop, who is one of Canada's warmest admirers, spoke of addressing thousands of Canadian troops in Flanders before the second battle of Ypres. Looking at the sea of faces the Bishop said: "This reminds me of Montreal and Toronto," whereupon a voice came from the crowd, "What's the matter with Winnipeg?" The Bishop referred with deep feeling to the fact that out of the great number he saw on that visit 6,000 fell, but others had come forward steadily to take their places.

Mrs. Black received a warm reception on rising, and a positive ovation when she sat down, after telling of the Yukon's part in the war, and paying a splendid tribute to Bishop and Mrs. Stringer, whose devoted work for many years in the farthest north is well known to people in this country.

The Bishop of Willesden and Major the Rev. C. C. Owen, of Vancouver, Senior Canadian Chaplain, also spoke.

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S FINANCES.

The Hon. H. C. Brewster, British Columbia's Premier and Minister of Finance, stated in his first Budget speech on April 23 that for the year just entered upon the revenue was estimated at $9,868,325, and the expenditure at $8,768,579, in addition to which there would be a capital expenditure of $2,032,225. The increase in revenue over last fixed year was $3,924,000, due to proposed increased taxation.

The Premier said the Government had decided that the methods of creating large deficits, as pursued by the late Government, must cease if the credit of the Province was to be maintained, and in order to bring the expenditure within revenue it was necessary to increase the taxes. The total national debt of British Columbia was $19,780,563.

The forty-second annual report of the Imperial Bank of Canada, for the twelve months ending April 30 last, shows profits of $1,122,816, as compared with $1,003,960 in the previous year, an increase of $118,856, or more than 11¼ per cent. There was available from previous accounts $1,089,656, making a total surplus of $2,212,574 available for dividends, which absorbed $840,000. The annual contribution to the officers' pension and guarantee fund took $7,500, and contributions to the Patriotic and Red Cross Funds $27,500. War taxes totalled $67,598. There was set aside the sum of $100,000 to cover depreciation on bonds and stocks held by the banks. The balance carried forward to the new account amounted to $1,164,876.

Since the discovery of silver at Cobalt in 1903 shipments from the camp and outlying silver areas have amounted to 255,189,988 ozs., valued at $135,748,876.

Winnipeg Electric Railway.—The report for 1916 states that the gross earnings amounted to $3,311,169, and the operating charges to $1,939,041. The net operating revenue for year was $1,372,128 and the net income $445,251, or equivalent to about 5 per cent. on the capital stock of the company. The net income this year, compared with the figures for 1915, shows a decrease of $36,742.

Algoma Central Railway.—The Bondholders' Committee of the Algoma Central and Hudson Bay Railway Co. and Algoma Central Terminals, Ltd., have issued a circular to the holders of 5 per cent. first mortgage 50-year gold bonds of both companies announcing that the scheme of arrangement has been made effective. The accounts show that during the period of about twenty-one months covered by the receivership the net income of the companies, including deposit and other interest, but before charging bond interest, Terminals rent, or providing for depreciation, was $830,007. From this must be deducted interest on the equipment Trust bonds, payable in full under the scheme, $56,323, leaving $773,684, or, say, £155,000. Deducting £31,000, being the 3 per cent. interest payable to the bondholders of the Terminals Co. for the year ended August 1, 1915, in terms of Clause 3 of the scheme, there remains a balance of £124,000, subject to provision for depreciation and contingencies. The Committee consider that the whole of the balance-sheet should be held available in Canada to provide for depreciation, renewals, repairs, and contingencies, and that no further payment on account of interest should be made at present on the bonds of the terminals company or upon the bonds of the railway company. It is evident that the companies' undertakings require very careful handling and nursing, and, in the opinion of the Committee, the next year or two should be devoted to reorganising the concerns and putting them into a condition to make the best of their opportunities.
